

Nicole Jackson

Artist Cohousing Community

LOCATION: Seattle, WA

Arise is an artist cohousing community shaped by the beauty of the ever changing creative process. Artists deserve an affordable place to live in their community to forge their skills and cultivate their craft. With spacious multifamily apartments, dynamic collaboration spaces, and makerspaces with state of the art equipment, Arise aims to bring together the three most important things in an artist's life: living, creating, and playing.

Location

Seattle is currently one of the top 10 fastest growing cities in the nation, and one of the most artistic hubs in the country. Rising population rates also have driven up rent costs as much as 75% in certain neighborhoods. Artists that are no longer able to afford rent are being driven out of Seattle by gentrification. Arise aims to bring artists back to cities like Seattle, as they are part of the fabric of their community.

Arise

Forge

Cultivate

Concept

Arise is inspired by the ever changing patterns of the Northern Lights and the ever changing creative process. The Northern Lights may disappear every night, but they come back with strength for another day. The concept of Arise will encourage artists to Arise with each new day, Forge their skills, and Cultivate a strong sense of confidence and community. Arise has three separate floors dedicated to the digital arts, 2D arts, and sculpture. Each floor is connected by a marketplace with gallery spaces, collaboration spaces, and a gallery shop.

Digital Gallery

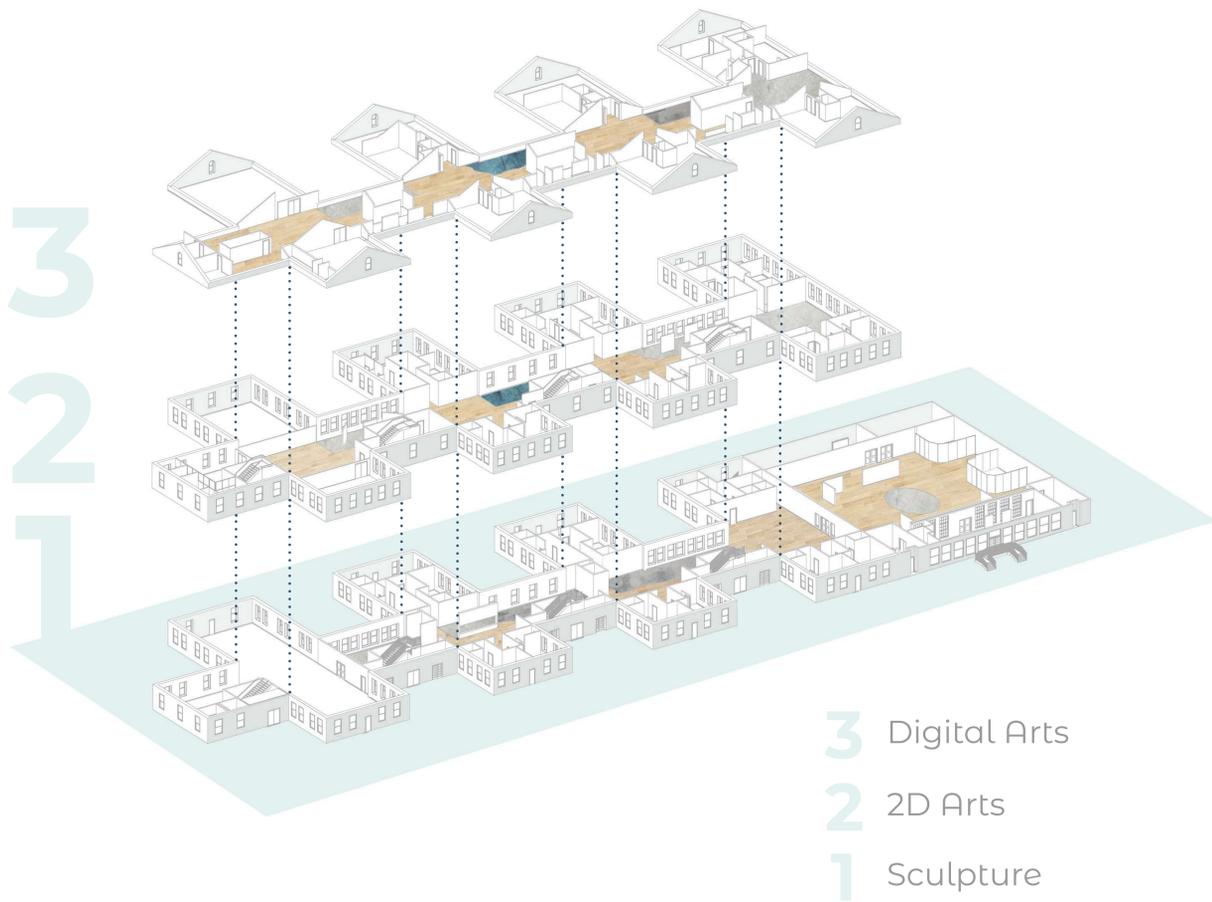

Sculpture Shop

Studio Unit

Front Desk

- 3 Digital Arts
- 2 2D Arts
- 1 Sculpture

Declare.

Sustainability

Over 90% of the materials used in Arise are Declare Certified. These products are sustainably sourced, toxin free, and considerate of their end of life use. Many products are also bio-based, Cradle to Cradle Certified, and made of recycled materials.

Main Gallery