soon!

Developmental Disabilities Research Lab

We had so much fun seeing our friends at NCDSA!

NEW RESEARCH PARTICIPATION OPPORTUNITY!

DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITIES RESEARCH LABORATORY

Communication And Play Early abilities in Down Syndrome

The DD Lab at CSU has a new research study that focuses on how young children with Down syndrome play and communicate! Play and communication are important for a child's development. This study will show how these skills grow in children with Down syndrome and how they connect to other factors like health conditions and autism.

We are excited to learn more about your child's CAPE-abilities!!!

New Study: Early Health and Motor Abilities in Down Syndrome

Our team is conducting a new study on the early foundations of health and motor abilities in children with Down syndrome. Participants will engage in playful assessment activities and wear a physical activity watch at home. Parents will fill out surveys and have the option of wearing a physical activity watch too. Your participation will help us learn how to best promote healthy outcomes!

Age range: Children 18-47 months of age Families Receive $300 compensation Locations in Fort Collins and Greater Denver

Grupos de enfoque en Español

¡Comparta sus opiniones con nosotros! Estamos organizado grupos de discusión en español para padres con niños con síndrome de Down. Queremos que compartan sus ideas sobre las actividades de intervención hechas en casa y lo que funciona para su familia. Si está interesado en participar, llámenos al 970-460-6237.
